GENDER PAY GAP REPORT 2025

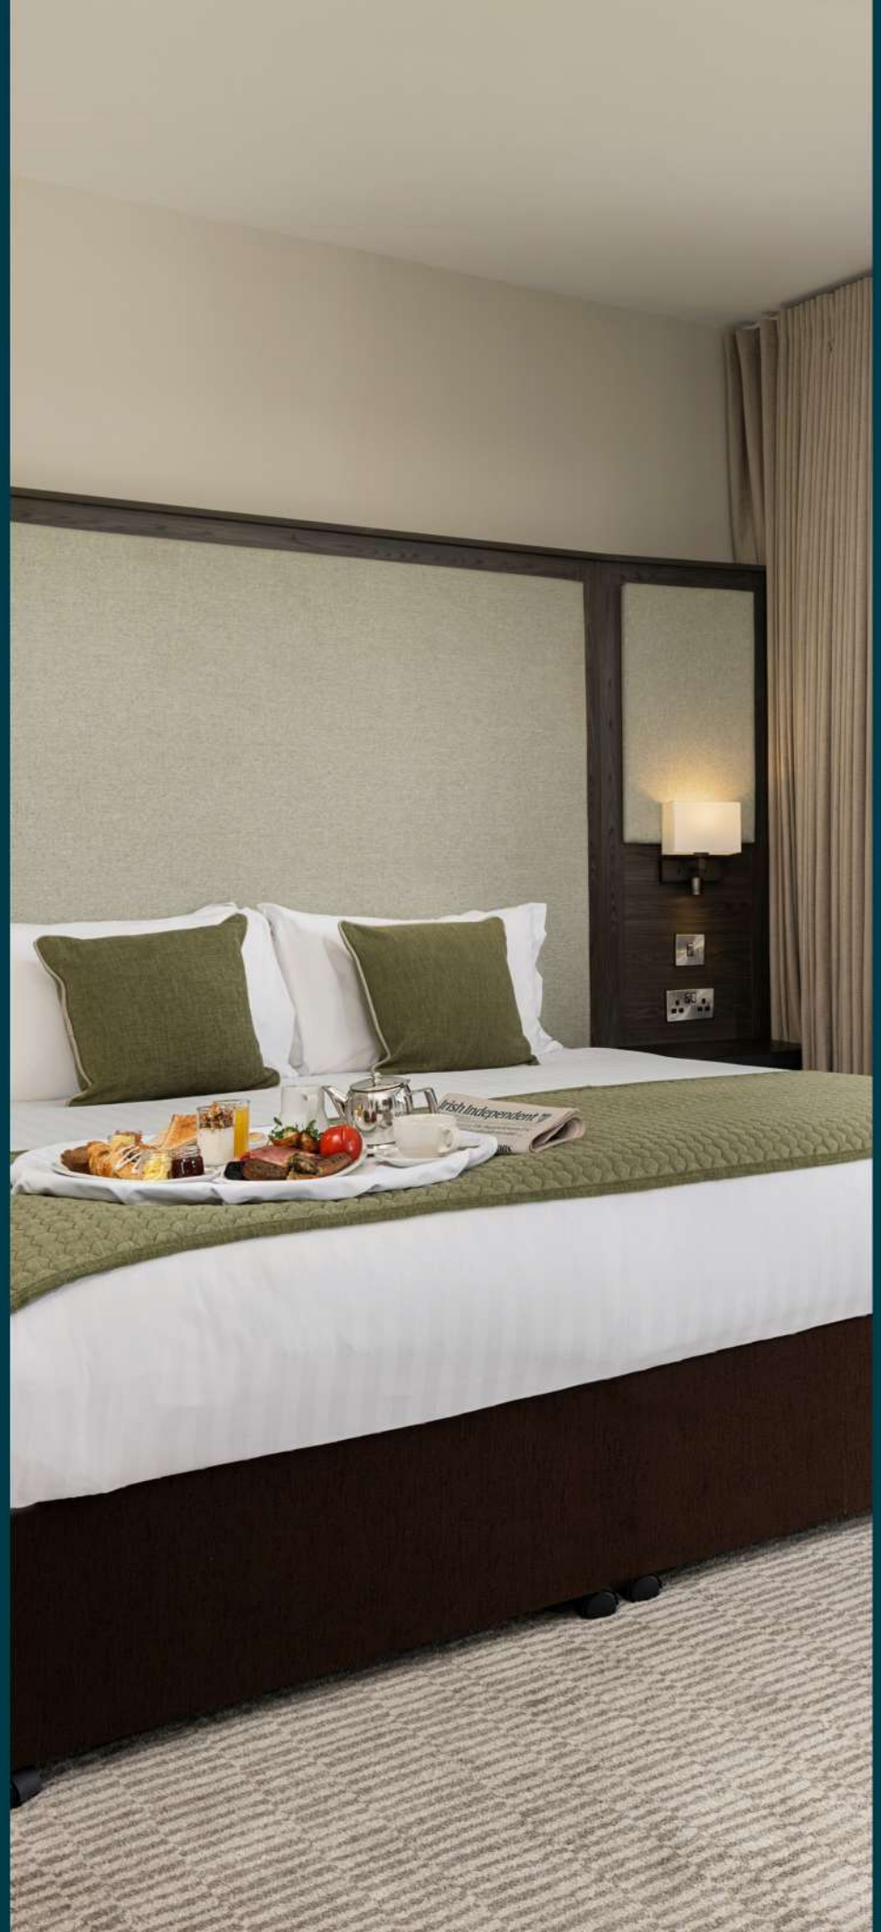
RAVENPORT
RESORT

INTRODUCTION

The gender pay gap represents the disparity in average hourly earnings between men and women within an organization, expressed as a percentage of the average male earnings. This metric considers the wages of all employees, regardless of their specific roles, working patterns, or skill levels. It differs from the concept of equal pay, which focuses on ensuring that men and women receive the same compensation for performing identical or equivalent roles.

- At Ravenport Resort, we value every member of our team in delivering an exceptional guest experience.

- This report sets out Ravenport Resort's gender pay gap statistics for the year ending 30 June 2025 and details the actions we are undertaking to address any identified disparities.



KEY GENDER PAY GAP METRICS

The mean gender pay gap represents the overall difference in average hourly earnings between men and women across the organisation. It provides a broad indication of pay disparity and may be influenced by the distribution of men and women across different roles, seniority levels, or pay grades, particularly where there are very high or very low salarie

The median gender pay gap reflects the difference in pay between the middle-earning man and the middle-earning woman when all employees are ranked from the lowest to the highest hourly pay. As this measure is less affected by extreme pay values, it offers a clearer picture of the typical difference in pay experienced by employees.

Pay quartiles show how men and women are represented across different levels of pay within the organisation. Employees are ranked from the lowest to the highest hourly pay and then divided into four equal groups by headcount, the lower, lower middle, upper middle, and upper quartiles. Analysing the gender distribution within each quartile provides insight into the representation of men and women across the pay structure and helps to identify any areas of imbalance.
